

Léah O'Rourke

My name is Léah O'Rourke and I am Head Girl here in St Patrick's College. I am also the Living Faith Ambassador in school. I am currently studying Irish, Religion and Health and Social Care. When I leave school, I want to go to St Mary's University in Belfast to become an Irish/Religion teacher.

My best bit of advice to younger pupils would be that everyone has a chapter they don't read aloud, always be kind!
